

Communists Take
It on the Chin in French Elections

Returns from last Sunday's municipal elections throughout France show the Communists to have lost 5,759 local council seats and Interior Minister Charles Brune is quoted by the United Press as saying: "In the provinces there has been a general Communist reverse."

This is fully as important to the free world as saving France from the opposite threat — a dictatorship under the Rightist Charles Gaullie.

The major worry in Europe has been France all along. One weakened government after another has temporized with bankruptcy on the one hand and the ever-present threat of a Communist takeover on the other. Not only have American taxpayers been compelled to pour billions of dollars into France's shaky economy but the French themselves were so poor in moral stamina that they broad-mindedly hinted it was either more American dollars "or else."

But Sunday's election returns are encouraging because despite a tapering off of U. S. funds Frenchmen seem to have finally made up their minds there's no future in playing the Communists' game. It was a conclusion that the French had to reach of their own accord, naturally.

France has been the Western world's dangerous question mark because she is renowned as the cradle of individual liberty, and her failure to stand up to the task of rehabilitating the country after war and the flattery which many of her people carried on with Soviet Russia combined to make a savage indictment of all republics.

Now it may be that the average Frenchman, having talked himself out, is prepared to buckle down to everyday affairs — and leave abstract liberty to the history books.

Citizens of all republics want to be free; but people who abuse the name of liberty in order to flatter the Russian aggressor are in immediate danger of losing what freedom they already have — a fact which most Frenchmen now recognize, according to Sunday's election returns.

Cox Foundry Noted for Precision Work

One of the interesting industries visited recently by the Hope Chamber of Commerce Retail Merchants' Group is Cox Brothers Foundry and Machine Shop.

One interesting product manufactured by Cox Brothers is the saw mill carriage. Cox Brothers Foundry and Machine Shop was first in the field of air operated saw mill carriages.

This piece of equipment sells for $8750 and requires about two to three weeks to build in the shop. The only part of this machinery which is not manufactured by the shop, is the small air compressor, which fits on the carriage.

All other parts of the carriage are cast, machined, and assembled in the local shop. Another important product for the saw mill industry is called the air or steam nigger. This is an automatic air-operated piece of equipment, which automatically turns the logs on the carriage to the desired position.

Brothers is work that other shops in this region are not equipped to do. Cox Brothers are particularly well-known in the saw mill industry and these carriages and niggers are operating in Texas, Louisiana, New Mexico, Florida and Georgia, in addition to the state of Arkansas. The bulk of the work done in the shop is done for industries in the above states.

One of the unique features of the foundry work is that the patterns are all made in the shop for the designed castings. Raw materials for the foundry are pig iron, steel and scrap material.

The cupola, which is the melting pot, has a capacity of approximately 10,000 pounds per hour.

Five Arkansas Men Killed in Car Crash

MARION (AP) — Five Joiner, Ark., men were killed near here today when their car spun out of control on a Highway 61-63 curve and collided with a tractor-trailer truck.

State Police Sgt. Marion Thomas identified the dead as: Julius Ralph, 35, driver of the car.

William A. Shannon, 23, Lewis Lee Lanier, 23, William A. Lawrence, 28, Donald McGowan, 23, Fred Lanier, 28, also of Joiner, sixth occupant of the car, was hospitalized with undetermined injuries.

The truck driver, Franklin A. May, 36, of Walnut Grove, Miss., was not injured.

Trooper Thomas said the car, which was headed north, failed to make the curve and crashed into the southbound truck. He said the wreck happened about 4 a. m., near the Marion city limits.

State police still were investigating and additional details were not available immediately.

The heavy trailer truck, loaded with 15 tons of soybeans, was headed toward Memphis. The car was en route to Joiner. Police said it plowed into the bed of the truck. The lighter vehicle was crushed like an accordion.

The tangled wreckage and the load of soybeans, strewn along the highway, blocked the road. Highway patrolmen set up road blocks on both sides of the crash scene and rerouted traffic around it.

Federal Agents Arrest Youth Near Patmos

A charge of violating the federal alcohol tax was lodged Wednesday against Jack Durl Cox, 18, of Hope Rt. 1, following a raid on an illicit still Tuesday near Patmos by federal alcoholic tax unit agents.

The agents seized 30 gallons of moonshine whiskey, and destroyed the still. One man escaped through the woods as the federal men closed in on the 12-gallon operation.

Cox waived preliminary hearing before U. S. Commissioner Thelma C. Winham at Texarkana and was remanded to Miller County Jail in lieu of $500 bond.

When Women Start Belting Each Other Around Men May Band to Regain Lost Bosshood

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Dear Lady Astor:

You have raised a lot of false male hopes by your statement that women today seem to be getting dumber and dumber.

It isn't fair to mislead me that way. It is within them the will-o-the-wisp dream that maybe women will become so dumb a man will be able to get back his equal rights again and compete with them on fair terms. That is unlikely.

Women may seem to act dumber on the surface, as you say, but they are actually getting smarter and smarter, if the accumulation of mere power is the proof of brains.

A man groans and sweats to build a skyscraper. A woman praises his perspiration, pats him on the back, bides her time—and bye and bye she owns the building.

You complain, dear lady, that women today take everything for granted. Why shouldn't they? It is a sensible attitude. Everything is granted to them. A fact is a fact. The dominant position of the unfair gender is the victory of feminine intelligence over aimless male groping.

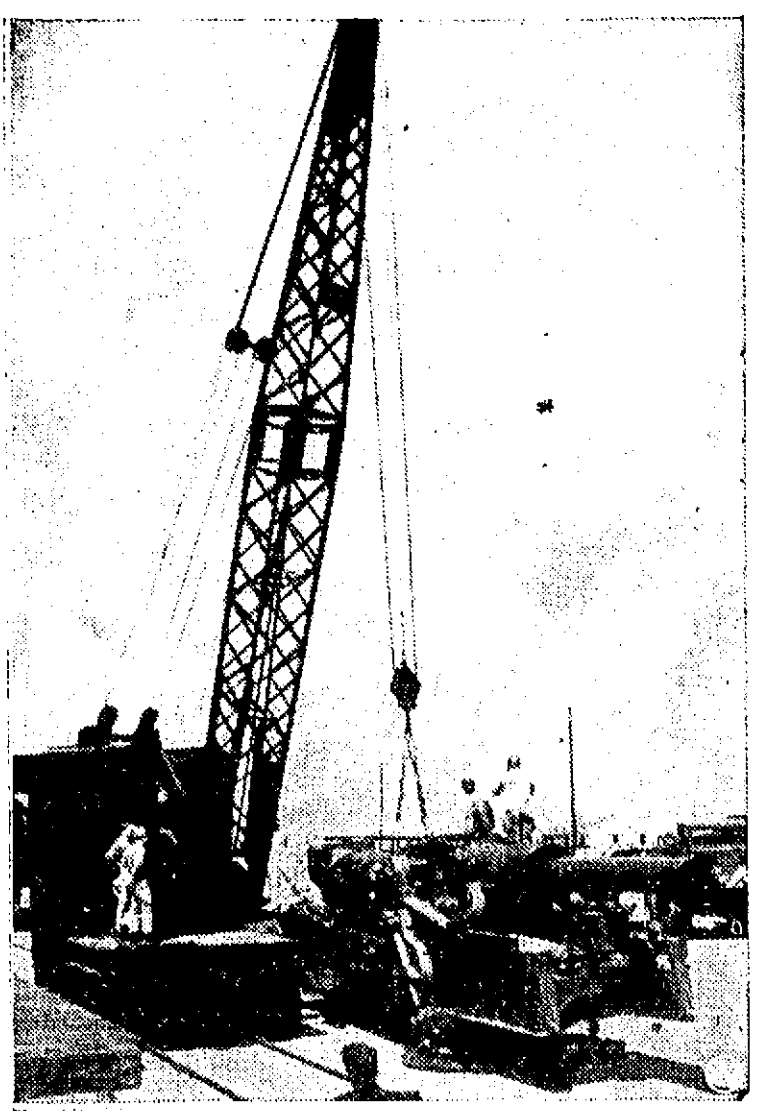

Men never knew what they really wanted in this world, and half the wars they have fought through out history were the result of their boredom. Women do know what they want today, or think they do—power. Public power. It is a new toy to them, and they enjoy playing with it.

As long as woman stood on her age-old pedestal no one could tell whether she was wise or foolish. She kept silent because she was weak, and the only strength of weakness lies in remaining silent.

But success likes to brag about itself. The heady wine of triumph loosens the tongue.

That is why some women today seem to be getting dumber. They are necessary to transact business.

Medic Tells of Terrible Red Treatment to 350 Captives — Less Than 50 of Them Lived

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD

TOKYO (AP) — "I'll give you a week to live — I get your boots when they take you to the hill," a buddy told Cpl. Wendell H. Treffery.

"He was building up my morale," the thin red-haired Treffery, of Terryville, Conn., said in an interview today.

The hill was the frozen, common grave of Americans who died while prisoners of the Communists at Kaengya, Korea, in the terrible winter of 1950-51.

"I lasted the week," said Treffery. "And then he said he'd get my boots in another week. I kept on living — I wouldn't let myself die. Whenever I got awful low, really down in the gutter, I could hear my mother saying like she always said: 'Keep your chin up.' I'll never know how I made it but I'm here and alive."

Of 350 U. S. infantrymen captured by Chinese on Nov. 30, 1950, south of the Changjin Reservoir, Treffery is one of less than 50 still living.

His feet froze. The flesh fell off his toes. A Korean nurse snipped off eight of his toes with garden shears. He broke off two with his own fingers.

During four attacks of dysentery, Treffery's weight dropped from 150 to 60 pounds.

A former medic with the 7th Division, he was one of the American prisoners returned by the Communists at Panmunjom last week. Here is his agonizing story as he told it today.

"We were caught in a Communist ambush, about 350 of us — Marines and 7th Division men. It was a hard fight but there wasn't any way out — we were surrounded."

"A Chinese hollered from the top of a hill — asking our senior officer to come and talk to him. Continued on Page Seven

UN May Simply Release All 32,000 Chinese

By ROBERT B. TUCKMIN

PANMUNJOM, N. C. — The Allies warned the Communists today they might take a short cut through the stalled prisoner exchange problem by simply releasing 32,000 North Koreans who don't want to go home.

Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison, chief Allied negotiator, said that turning the prisoners free in South Korea would follow a pattern created by the Reds themselves.

He also told the Communists to nominate a non-Asian country as neutral caretaker for 48,000 Communist prisoners who don't want to go home and made it clear the Allies would discuss little else until that's done.

In an unproductive, 51-minute meeting, Harrison said that chaos Continued on Page Two

81 Reported Held in One Chinese Camp

TOKYO (AP) — A Virginia corporal fresh from a North Korean prison camp today gave the names of 81 Allied troops he said were still in the camp.

Cpl. Everett W. Ritenour, 21, Woodstock, Va., said all of those named were in "pretty good shape" when he left Red Prison Camp No. 5 on the Yalu River.

A check of the official list of the prisoner list turned over to the United Nations Dec. 20, 1951, showed most of them to be on the list.

In Honolulu, a returned American prisoner told the Army he memorized the names of 50 U. S. soldiers listed as missing or dead but who actually are held in Red prison camps.

"The Army confirmed the report but refused to release the names of the 50 fellow prisoners," a spokesman said. Disclosure of the names "might lead to reprisals against the men still in Communist hands."

The Army did not comment on Ritenour's list.

Publication of the list was permitted by the Army censor after he checked his headquarters.

Ritenour was among POWs tentatively docketed for return to U. S. today or tomorrow.

TOKYO (AP) — Cpl. Everett W. Ritenour, 21, of Woodstock, Va., said today he had left 75 friends in Red Prison Camp No. 5 on the Yalu River in North Korea.

He gave the following list of names and addresses of the prisoners and said each had written his name and address in a notebook so that Ritenour could notify relatives they were still alive.

The list includes: Cpl. Truman Davis, 900 W. Mill St., Heber Springs, Ark.

Ike Reportedly Plans to Cut $8½ Billions Off of Truman Budget

Committee Cuts Funds for State Department by 32%, Others Also Will Feel Slash

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower reportedly laid before legislative leaders today preliminary proposals to whack approximately $8½ billion dollars off former President Truman's budget.

Lawmakers who sat in on the discussion at the White House said the tentative cuts would include a reduction of about five billion dollars on Truman's proposals for military spending.

Reductions of $1,800,000,000 in foreign aid, $1,200,000,000 in domestic spending and $25,000,000 in atomic projects also were discussed.

Eisenhower was said to have emphasized that the approximately $8½ billion cuts under the Truman $78,600,000,000 spending program for the year beginning July 1 were only preliminary and would be reviewed later. Truman figured defense spending at $30,300,000,000. Truman proposed spending $2.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 33 per cent cut in new funds requested for the State Department by for appropriations committee, recommended today by the House Appropriations Committee.

The committee also called for cuts of 25 per cent in funds requested for the Commerce Department and 30 per cent in those sought for the Justice Department.

The three agencies' appropriations for the fiscal year starting July 1 are embodied in a package bill sent to the House floor today by the committee.

Its total of $1,143,146,712 is 22 per cent less than $1,477,703, below the amounts Truman requested in his January budget and $147,911,303 less than the three departments received for the present year.

U. S. Planes Down Five Enemy Jets

By ROBERT UDICK

SEOUL, Korea (UP) — American Sabrejets destroyed or damaged five Communist MIG-15's today while hundreds of U. N. war planes bombed North Korean military targets from the battlefield to the Yalu River.

The Sabre shot down three MIGs which swarmed from Manchuria in a vain attempt to break up the Allied fighter-bomber formations. Two others were damaged.

Capt. Manuel J. Fernandez, Jr., of Miami, Fla., led the world's jet destruction record by shooting down his 12th MIG. He now shares the record honor with his former commanding officer, Col. Royal W. Baker of McKinney, Tex.

The other two kills were credited to Maj. Clyde J. Wade of Johnson City, Tenn., and Capt. George P. Kelly III of Houston, Tex., and Col. John W. Mitchell of Erie, Miss.

Relays of Shooting Stars dumped 26 bombs on a Red airfield at Ongjin and thousands-pounders the length of another runway at Haeju.

Forty-six Marine Corsairs concentrated on the Communists' main Western supply artery, destroying 42 buildings at a troop concentration at Sariwon.

South Korean Mustangs struck at a transformer station at P'yonggang and Thunderjets pounded troop concentrations 15 miles west of the Iron Triangle city.

Sabrejet combats and Panther jets pounded the Communists' "great wall" of fortifications in the three Western sectors of the battleline.

Fernandez said he thought he shot down two other MIGs. If so, his score would surpass Baker's.

The Mayor started checking up and the report was proved false as usual. . . . the best gauge of a city's population is the number of electrical meters and during the past five years ending December 1952 a total of 4,216 meters were installed and in the same period 2,822 were removed, representing a net gain of 1,394 in five years alone. . . . and the Mayor's figures, compiled by Mrs. Florence Hicks, showed a substantial increase every month except one and that was even. . . . and it's not only reflected in W&L meters because the Chamber of Commerce bulletin each month lists the number of meters of all utilities and they too show sizeable and steady increases and according to a recent engineering report, the city's water supply will continue to be adequate for the foreseeable future. . . .

Arkansan Is Given Big Welcome

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Cpl. Willie Patrick of Hillman, Ark., came back to Arkansas today for the first time since 1948 and said: "I'm not going to do anything for the next 30 days."

Patrick arrived at Little Rock's airport with two other repatriated prisoners who were released by the Communists at Panmunjom more than a week ago. Patrick, short and slightly built, appeared to be in good health.

The corporal, was captured by the Communists in December, 1950. Patrick said, "we were just run over" when he was taken at Chang River.

Friends and relatives, including a former member of Patrick's squad in Korea, Hollis Barrett of Little Rock, met him when the American Airlines plane landed from San Francisco.

Barrett said the last time he heard of Patrick someone told him that Patrick had been wounded in the chest. Barrett and nine other men were the only ones from a platoon of 48 that escaped capture.

Other returned prisoners who were on the plane with Patrick included Sgt. Walter Mitchell of 715 Oak Grove Avenue, Greenville, Tenn., and Pfc. Robert Fleming of 1327 Tutwiler Avenue, Memphis.

The two other returnees left on the plane for Memphis at 8:45 a. m.

Willie's cousin, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Sims of Lonoke, were at the airport to drive him to his home in the tiny Woodruff County community of Hillman.

However, that was not necessarily the case. Arkansas State Police had already arranged to do the job.

Committee Cuts

700,000,000 for atomic energy and $780,000,000 for foreign assistance. Lawmakers who attended the conference said it was their intention that the proposed $4 billion dollar cuts would make it possible to balance the so-called "cash" budget in the next fiscal year.

The budget is based on what the treasury actually pays out and takes in, including social security and similar receipts.

The President was reported to have said that action on proposed cuts would have to wait until more definite information as to what the deficit may run.

One conference said there was heated discussion of the military budget, with Eisenhower warning away in the face of a referee that the budget was sacred.

It was said to have been the principle that he intended to keep the security of this country as the No. 1 consideration.

All these reports came from legislators who asked not to be quoted by name.

of its overall recommendations with revised money requests made by President Eisenhower took place.

Here is what the committee has recommended:

State Department — $102,744,787, a cut of $47,403,403 from the Truman requests and $30,900,000 below this year's funds.

Justice Department — $179,905,000, a cut of $7,403,000 from Truman estimates and $5,025,000 from current appropriations.

Commerce Department — $811,156,925, a cut of $270,059,000 from Truman requests and $112,863,211 from fiscal 1953 funds.

No funds were recommended for the State Department's education and information services, including the "Voice of America," since the future status of this program is uncertain. It will be financed in a later bill.

Sharp cuts in State Department personnel were forecast by the committee as a result of its recommendations.

Rep. Cleveland (R-Ohio) chairman of the subcommittee which drafted the bill, said the department has "too many people and too many agencies in many of the foreign countries."

The Federal Bureau of Investigation budget wasn't cut at all. The committee said it had full confidence in Director J. Edgar Hoover and wouldn't spend any money unnecessarily.

The committee recommended that Hoover's boss, Atty. Gen. Brownell, be given "absolute discretion" to fire department employees whenever he believed the interests of the country require it. This authority has been given to heads of other agencies designated as "sensitive."

Brownell also would be authorized to disregard civil service laws in employing U. S. attorneys, with the understanding that they devote full time to government work and not be paid more than $14,000 annually.

Biggest money cuts in the bill were in funds requested by Truman for the Maritime Administration's ship building program and for the Bureau of Public Roads.

Truman asked for 118½ million dollars to build four new cargo-passenger ships and a prototype tanker, but Eisenhower withdrew the request and the committee went along with him. It approved the entire $5 million requested for payment of operating differential between the Maritime Admin-

CHICAGO (AP) — Old crop soybean contracts dropped more than 5 cents at times on the Board of Trade today to pace a general downward move in all cereals.

1,058 Measle Cases in State Last Week

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — The number of measles cases in Arkansas shot up to a new high last week with a total of 1,058 cases reported for the week ending Saturday.

The figure, reported by the State Health Department, compared with 783 cases for the previous week and only 178 cases for the same week of last year. It brought this year's total of cases to 7,544 as against 1,089 for the comparable period of 1952.

Biggest money cuts in the bill were in funds requested by Truman for the Maritime Administration's ship building program and for the Bureau of Public Roads.

Truman asked for 118½ million dollars to build four new cargo-passenger ships and a prototype tanker, but Eisenhower withdrew the request and the committee went along with him. It approved the entire $5 million requested for payment of operating differential between the Maritime Admin-

McCarthy Says Chinese Own British Ships

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) said today Chinese Communists are at least part owners of some ships hauling goods to Red China under pledged protection of the British Navy.

McCarthy said he has evidence also that the French government owns three ships carrying cargoes to the Chinese Reds, and has yet to pay the U. S. government in full for any of them. They were purchased from the U. S. Maritime Commission, he said.

McCarthy said he hopes to shed light on the cargoes involved when his Senate investigations subcommittee explores these and other matters in public hearings Monday. The hearings had been scheduled for tomorrow but were switched to Monday by McCarthy.

The U. S. has banned American shipments to Red China and Britain and France have forbidden ships flying their flags to carry strategic materials to either the China mainland or North Korea.

McCarthy contended there has been widespread violation of that order by some British-flag ships.

He said recent trade statistics of British origin show a "fantastic" spurt in export trade to China. Much of the rise, he said, has been in the shipment of sodium compounds. He said he wants the U. S. Department of Commerce to determine whether these could be used to produce war-useful explosives, and why some of the carriers had orders to avoid any ports where they might come under U. S. inspection.

McCarthy declined to give details of his assertion that Chinese Communists are investors in British-flag vessels.

He said the British government, in a recent statement to Parliament, made clear its willingness to use naval support to protect ships flying the British flag if Chinese Nationalist forces attempt to molest them.

The Allies have been returning 500 Red sick and wounded daily. Delivery of 250 Chinese and 250 North Koreans Friday will bring the total of returned Reds to about 6,000, almost 200 more than were promised.

At Munsan, 500 sick and wounded Reds threatened Allied guards in a short-lived rebellion on a hospital train taking them to Panmunjom for return to communism.

The 375 civilian internees and 125 North Korean soldiers finally quieted before they were unloaded for the ambulance ride from Munsan to Panmunjom.

When it is time for adult ciendas to appear, 20,000 or more may crawl out of the ground beneath a single tree.

DOROTHY DIX

Thoughtless Man

Dear Miss Dix: I have known Jim for five years. While he was at home neither of us was very serious; we just went out in a crowd. Time came for him to leave and he is now in a government job. He asked if I would write to him, which I did, but he almost never answered my letters. Naturally, mine became very few — but still no response. He has just come home after being away for two years, and soon will be off again. He got in touch with me and we went out, but the subject of his failing to write never came up.

I cared for him all the time he was away, which narrowed my chances of meeting or dating anyone else. Now, from a recent date, I feel he does care a little for me, but I can't be too sure. After our last date, he said he wouldn't see me for a week or two since he had some visiting to do. If I don't see him again before he does leave, should I continue to write?

SANDRA M.

Boy Not So Interested

Answer: To come quickly to the point, I think the boy, by his thoughtlessness, has shown that he is not nearly as interested in you as you are in him. Of course, there is always the possibility that he's restraining his emotions in view of the long absence evidenced by his job. Perhaps he does not want to keep you tied down to promises while he's unavailable, but at least he should be fair enough to let you know why he's holding back. In view of his long impending absence, and the possibility that it will be wasted time for you if you settle down to awaiting him, I strongly advise that you try to find other interests. Don't wait unless he asks you to. Again, he may just be so sure of you that he feels you'll always be around whether he makes a commitment or not. This, too, is being very unfair to you and you seem like much too fine a person to be subjected to such inconsideration.

Dear Miss Dix: My problem is a complicated one, but I'll present it as simply as possible. My husband, George, and I have been married for three years. It was a second marriage for both of us, and we never got along too well. He drank quite a bit and was very mean, I worked to help pay the bills but my efforts were not appreciated. With all this, I still loved him. Finally, however, after he left me several times, I sued for separation and got it. Since then I have had several dates, and have become interested in one man especially, whose name is Peter. I'm not sure if I love him, though. He doesn't call me very often, and since I hate to be alone, would it be all right for me to accept dates with other men, or stick around waiting for Peter?

Answer: It's plain to see that your dislike of being alone has led you into difficulties already, and is well on the way to produce more complications. There are worse things in this world than your own company, as I'm afraid you'll learn to your sorrow. The first thing you should iron out is your marital status. Before you are free to date indiscriminately, your divorce should be final. As for Peter, since he knows both you and your husband for several years, I rather imagine his insight into your turbulent domestic life would not incline him to step into George's shoes. You admit to some nagging and displays of ill temper, so I'm sure you didn't give Peter, or anyone else, the impression that you have the makings of a good wife. Stop concentrating so heavily on the idea of being out for a good time every night and see what you can do to straighten yourself out. Consultation with a clergyman or domestic counselor should show up your weak spots.

Dear Miss Dix: Don't you think that, at 16, I should be able to distinguish good boys from bad ones? My mother doesn't think so.

Answer: You should be learning how to judge a boy, and this education is best done under your mother's tutelage. Adults with years of experience in dealing with people are far more infallible in their judgments of others, so certainly a sixteen-year-old cannot be expected to be much of a judge. When you and your mother differ in your opinion of a certain boy, discuss the matter with her frankly and find out her objections to him. In this way you'll have characteristics defined, and you will improve in your own analysis of people.

Tideland Changes Will Not Get Far

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — In these last few days before Tuesday's Senate vote on giving the states the oil-rich submerged lands off their coasts, the changes being suggested by a few senators probably will not get far.

But unless changes are made, the debate about the underwater land, battered around in the courts for years, seems headed straight back to the courts to give answers which this measure doesn't supply.

Because it is so vaguely written, the measure is more precise or exact a dispute dragging on in the courts for years.

The wanted Congress to draw a line, which would show just how much of the submerged lands the states can develop. The Senate measure fails to do that, leaving the problem of states' boundaries up in the air.

In short, the legislation says the states can have the land under water but it doesn't say how much. That's something to be worked out later, somehow. What the measure says is this:

The states can have ownership out to a line to which they can make just claim. What is a just claim? It doesn't say. That's why, after long dispute, the Supreme Court may have to decide.

For most states, those with no offshore oil, the boundary may turn out to be three miles. For Florida, with an offshore oil, it may be 10½ miles. After the Civil War approved a Florida state constitution which claimed 10½ miles.

There is oil off the California shore but most of it is within the three-mile limit. For that state the boundary may be three miles. But Texas and Louisiana create a special problem and must offshore oil is off their coasts.

When Texas was a republic, its constitution claimed control of the waters in the Gulf of Mexico for 10½ miles off its coast. And Sen. Daniel, Texas Democrat, says that's a just claim because Congress approved it when Texas was admitted to the Union in 1847. He said that is all Texas claims now.

But in 1947 the Texas Legislature claimed ownership out to the edge of the continental shelf, some 130 miles from Texas' shore.

The location of the oil off Texas' shore is significant. The estimated offshore reserve there is one billion barrels, with only 400 million within the three-mile limit, 800 from three to 10½ miles, and 7,800,000,000 beyond 10½ miles.

The confusion over Louisiana's boundary is even greater. Its own state officials couldn't tell the Senate what the boundary is. The furthermost island off Louisiana's shore is 10½ miles out in the Gulf. In 1938 the State Legislature claimed a boundary of 27½ miles from the coast. But what is the coast? Is it the outermost edge of the outermost island, 10½ miles out? If so, Louisiana could claim a boundary 3½ miles out.

Or is its coast the shoreline of the state's mainland? If so, then can Louisiana claim only 27½ miles from the mainland? It does the state, in spite of the Legislature's action, have any claim at all to more than the usual three-mile limit which is what most of the other states will get?

Louisiana's estimated offshore oil reserve is four billion barrels, of which only 250 million are within the three-mile limit and 3 billion barrels beyond three miles.

I HAVE a report by an agent of the FBI who was sent into Soviet Russia in 1943 to investigate backsliding among the American representatives. I dealt with this situation a year ago with considerable publicity. Admiral William H. Standley, our ambassador, Admiral Standley told me that the situation of Joseph E. Davies, who was called "Mr. Ambassador" by his own flunkies, and of Wendell Willkie, both of them went to Moscow with special credentials from F. D. Roosevelt and under Standley. Although he was a professional fighting man, Standley never substantiated his confidential contacts to his staff with a word of protest to Roosevelt. At the situation called for in the end he just said he was bowled out because he did not feel qualified to deal with the problems of being peace.

The report in my possession was given to J. Edgar Hoover by an agent whom he sent to Russia to investigate in response to a request from General George Marshall, chief of staff, to investigate the conduct of Brig. Gen. Philip Faymonville, the lend-lease administrator, who has been lavishly praised since the war by American newspapers as a military hero who did not understand the Russian mind. The report was a favorite of Eleanor Roosevelt and of Averell Harriman, who insisted on dumping millions of industrial equipment in Russia. They intended to make Russia an industrial nation, replacing Germany in the world lineup. That

Train Derails, Nobody Hurt Seriously

COLEMAN, La. (AP) — Deputy Sheriff J. M. Churchman of Grant Parish said today the Kansas City Southern's "Southern Belle" was derailed last night two and one-half miles north of Montgomery, La. He said injuries were minor.

Churchman said Guy, Edward F. Ann of Kansas and his wife were passengers on the northbound train.

The deputy sheriff said Ann got a "bad lick on his left leg just above his ankle," but that his wife was only shaken up. They were in the lounge car, one of the last three cars on the train which were completely off the tracks.

Severe rains which flooded the area and caused highway traffic to be halted near the scene of the wreck, apparently washed out the track and caused the derailment.

Churchman said the last cars of the train were in a ditch and were almost covered by water by the time he got there.

The wreck occurred about 8:30 p.m. southeast of Shreveport, about 1.5 p.m.

The passengers were taken to Shreveport by bus.

ARKANSAN IN GROUP

HONOLULU, H. — Cpl. Willie J. Patrick of Hilleman, Ark., was one of 35 disabled Americans from Korean Communist prison stock who arrived here yesterday.

Hawaiian hula girls and flower-children greeted the returned POWs as most of them stepped from the big plane. Eight veterans were lowered from the plane to trade lend-lease material for military information, but the FBI report says Faymonville refused, holding that it was up to the attaché to get military information by his own devices.

After his removal as attaché in 1939, Faymonville was sent to Boston but soon went to Washington and impressed his views of Russia on Roosevelt. Soon after that, however, the War Department sent him to San Francisco as chief ordnance officer of the Fourth Army. The report says he stayed there until Germany invaded Russia but then, according to Yeaton, rushed to Washington and presented himself to Roosevelt as a candidate for the lend-lease job in Russia. The FBI says Eleanor Roosevelt was Faymonville's friend and that he got the job even though the general staff opposed his selection.

Admiral Standley confirms the FBI's version of a dispute between him and Faymonville over the admiral's demand that Faymonville open his private locker in the embassy and let him inspect the contents. Standley insisted that the embassy was government property, and ordered Faymonville to open up. Faymonville did. No contraband was found.

'Klan' Helped Straighten Out Prisoners

TOKYO (AP) — American soldiers incarcerated in North Korea have formed a "Ku Klux Klan" to "straighten out" their fellow captives who got infected by communism, it was disclosed today.

Pfc. James B. Dunn, of Anderson, S. C., one of 143 Americans freed in the Panmunjom prisoner exchange, said the Klan was organized at prison camp No. 1 near Pyongyang, the North Korean capital.

"We would write to the 'progressive' boys, signed KKK. Telling them to straighten out," Dunn said. "If they didn't, they usually got thrown in the latrine."

Dunn told his story of the "progressives" in the hospital where he is waiting to be flown home in the Army's freedom airlift.

There were seven or eight of them in his camp out of a total of 200 prisoners, he said.

"We called them rats or progressive boys," he commented.

On Dunn's radio there might be only about half a dozen informed men among the 149 soldiers freed and about 120 among the total of 3,200 prisoners listed by the communists, or 3.5 per cent.

But Army doctors believed it will develop that some of them merely pretended to go Communist to get better treatment, including more cigarettes.

Miss America Joins Cops, Robbers Chase

NEW YORK (AP) — It isn't every day that a former Miss America joins in a cops-and-robbers chase.

But that's what happened yesterday after William Devine, 21, and John Fee, 26, allegedly tried to hold up a Third Avenue haberdashery. Police said the men fled after beating a clerk whose screams attracted attention.

Rookie Patrolman Alex Davidovsky sketched up just as John D. Levine, a photographer, and Yolanda Betheze, Miss America of 1951, came by in Levine's auto.

Davidovsky jumped into Levine's car as Devine ran from the scene. They cornered Devine on a ramp of the Queensboro Bridge and all three-including Miss Betheze—jumped out of the car and pounced on him. Officers later said he was armed.

Fee, Devine's alleged accomplice, was captured in less spectacular fashion. Off-duty Patrolman Vincent Intoreto, having his hair cut next door, leaped from a barber chair when he heard the commotion in the haberdashery and collared him.

Devine and Fee were charged with assault, attempted burglary and violation of the weapons law.

Admiral Standley confirmed the FBI's version of a dispute between him and Faymonville over the admiral's demand that Faymonville open his private locker in the embassy and let him inspect the contents. Standley insisted that the embassy was government property, and ordered Faymonville to open up. Faymonville did. No contraband was found.

Monroe Ball Park to Sell Beer

MONROE, La. (AP) — The Monroe Sports Baseball Corp. plans to continue selling beer at its ball park despite a city council ban.
The city council passed the ban yesterday at the recommendation of City Attorney Wood Thompson who said many persons had pursued the sale because a public playground is less than 300 feet from American Legion stadium.

"Sale of concessions is essential to the profitable operation of the club," said Paul Manush, business manager of the Class C Catton States League club. "A ban on beer will be a serious financial blow."

A test is expected Monday when the Sports return from a road trip.

Judges Stay on Top of Cotton Loop

Associated Press Sports Writer
The question of whether hitting or pitching is more important in baseball is about as unsettled as the argument over which came first — the chicken or the egg.
True enough, the foremost sluggers, Pine Bluff's Judges, are perched atop the Class C circuit.
However, only half a game behind, at 5-2, are the Monroe Sports, who've had by far the most effective pitching in the young season but are at the bottom of the pack in hitting.

Pine Bluff has collected 80 hits, a large share of them extra base blows, for an average of 10 a game. The Judges have scored 70 runs — almost 10 a game, 25 more than next-ranking Hot Springs and more than three times as many as Monroe.

Monroe has chalked up only 23 runs, while Natchez for the hoopy act in that department and 54 hits, just nine more than last-rung Meridian.

The Sports' pitchers, on the other hand, have held the opposition to 43 hits and 21 runs, averages of 6.14 and 3 a game. No other CCL member comes close to those figures.

Pine Bluff hurlers, who haven't had to bear down with the big margins their heavy hitters have given them, have yielded an average of 9.25 hits and 4 runs a game.

None of the Cotton States can bring about fielding, Meridian and El Dorado have committed the fewest errors — 12 apiece. Hot

Records May Fall in State Track Meet

LITTLE ROCK — With dry weather, eight records in the senior divisions will be in danger in the state high school track and field meets at Conway and Little Rock tomorrow and Saturday.
Class A seniors and juniors will compete at Conway tomorrow, with Class B seniors and juniors participating at Little Rock.
On Saturday both divisions of the Big Seven Conference will be contested in Little Rock.

Performances in last week's district meets, through which the athletes qualified for state competition, indicated possibilities of four new records in Class A.

Although running in the rain,
Jack Gentry of Marianna equalled the high hurdle mark of 15.4 seconds and was just two-tenths of a second off the 20.4 record in the low hurdles. The high hurdle record was set in 1949 by Brooks Rier of Camden, the low hurdle mark last year by Simon of Monticello.

Donny Berry of Stuttgart was tined in 22.6 in the 200-yard dash.
The record is just three-tenths of a second faster.

Conway's 440-yard relay team has made the circle in 44.7 seconds this year, equalling the state Springs has the most — 24.

Rain washed out three-fourths of the League program last night.
In the only game, El Dorado crushed for six scores — on only two singles — in the fifth inning to beat Hot Springs, 9-7. Five walks and two errors figured in the score.

The wildness of Bather starter
Wayne Parks, loser Ken Fenton and Gene Jessen, was too much for Hot Springs Centerfielder Hal Martha to overcome, although he hit two homers and drove in five runs for the losers.

Jimmy Morgan led the Oilers' 10-hit attack with a pair of singles. He also acted as manager in the absence of pilot Bill Adams, whose infant son died shortly after birth.

Clyde Baldwin scored his first victory for El Dorado, going route and yielding nine hits.

A doubleheader was scheduled at El Dorado last night, but wet grounds cut the card to a single game. The Oilers and the Bathers will try to play two tonight.

Postponements were Pine Bluff at Greenville, Natchez at Jackson and Monroe at Meridian.

Record set by the same school last year.

Two Big Seven records are endangered on the basis of heats in invitational meets. House of North Little Rock has pole vaulted 11 feet, 2 inches — an inch higher than the record held by Allison of Little Rock established last year.
And Marvin and Platt, both of Little Rock, have high jumped 63.
The record, set by Matthews of Hot Springs in 1952, is 5-10.

In Class B, Roberts of Holly
Green has thrown the discus 133-3, nearly two feet farther than the 1947 record by Gil of Atkins. Durham's 440-yard relay quartet has equalled the 4-4 seconds mark set in 1951 by Atkins.

Preliminaries at both Conway and Little Rock tomorrow will begin at 9 a. m., with finals to start at 4 p. m.

A district meets:
Pine Bluff — Ronnie Bennett,
N. Ward, 11-2.
Broad jump — Sam Richards,
Benton, 29-11.
Shot put — Louis Nelson Leach-man, 6-4.
Discus — Jim Gillaspay, Poncajuntas, 142-3.
High jump — Richard Holmes,
Conway, 4-11 1/2.
100-yard dash — Dennis Fuhner,
Conway, 10-2.
440-yard dash — Dale Lassiter,
Monticello, 2-2.
200-yard run — Charles Atker-son, Hope, 2-09.
200-yard relay — Hamburg and Malvern, each 1:35.6.

1 mile relay — Fairview 3:35.5.
Broad jump — Gray, El Dorado,
20-9 1/2.
100-yard relay — Little Rock,
1:44.7.
120-yard high hurdles — Fowler,
North Little Rock, 1:54.
100-yard dash — Shirley, El Dorado, and Jones, Little Rock, 1:10.4.
800-yard relay — Little Rock,
1:33.3.
Discus — Voegelé, North Little Rock, 141-5 1/2.
440-yard dash — Glutzman, El Dorado, 53.9.
60-yard low hurdles — Fowler,
North Little Rock, 21.2.
800-yard run — Mason, North Little Rock, 2:05.3.
220-yard dash — Mack, El,
Smith, 22.8.
1 mile relay — El Dorado, 3:37.1.

Almost Billion Slashed Off Money Bills

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON (AP) — A Republican drive to cut as much as 10 billion dollars from new appropriations for fiscal year 1954 was near the billion dollar mark today, with two annual money bills cleared by the House.

The second departmental appropriation measure was a sure through yesterday, to be followed later this week by House action on another budget measure. A finance bill, Justice and Commerce Department bills.

None of the bills has been acted on by the Senate, which could, of course, restore some of the cuts or trim even deeper.

Yesterday's action was on a bill

Legion to Take Bids on Park Concession

Announcement was made today that additional bids would be received by Legion officials for lease of the old drink concession at the park for the entire season. This will include the opening game between the Muleriders and Reddies.

Bids asked for to date have been based on a fixed cash guarantee basis and will be considered as such. The Legion athletic committee indicated that several firms and individuals were interested in presenting bids on a commission basis and they had decided to accept and consider any such bids offered.

Bidders are requested to submit in writing their bids to either Teddy Jones, Post Commander, or Ferrell Baker, Chairman of the Legion Athletic Committee before 5 p.m. Friday, May 1.

Ross was an outfielder last year, his first season with the "Riders." His lack of pitching depth caused his conversion to the hill.
At this writing, Ross owns a 1-0 record, having received credit for a victory over Texarkana Junior College. He has also turned in several sparkling relief chores. He formerly served the Legionnaires as an outfielder.

Gunter, a smooth glove man, has been the defensive star for two seasons at Southern State. Although slow foot, the likeable blend infielder can cover more ground than many faster men, and possesses a rifle arm. He is an extremely skilled bunter, and hits in clutch situations. He batted a solid .380 for the Muleriders in '52 but has been unable to shake a batting slump that has plagued

Palmer's Host to Delegates in Washington

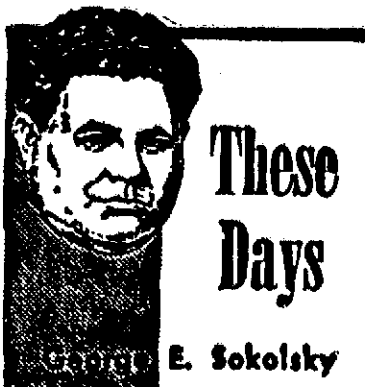

By HOWARD SUTTLE
WASHINGTON — The seventh annual "Palmer dinner" in Washington Tuesday night became a booster session for heralding to the national capital the centennial celebration of Columbia County, at Magnolia, May 4.

partner in the publication of newspapers in 11 Arkansas cities, and Mrs. Palmer joined with the Magnolia Chamber of Commerce in sponsoring the dinner, which was staged in honor of the Arkansas delegation in Congress. Mr. and Mrs. Palmer have been host and hostess to such a dinner each year during the annual convention of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce. They staged the first such affair in 1937.

Members of the House delegation in attendance were Rep. E. C. (Took) Gathings, West Memphis; Rep. W. F. Norrell, Monticello; Rep. Oren Harris, El Dorado, and Rep. Wilbur Mills, Kennesaw.

Rep. Brooks Hays of Little Rock, and Rep. James W. Trimble, Berryville, were unable to attend, the former because of a previous engagement and the latter because of Mrs. Trimble's illness.

Senators John L. McClellan and J. William Fulbright were also present. And each joined in the story-telling session, an annual feature of the "speeches" program under which Mr. and Mrs. Palmer have conducted the dinner since its inception.

THE AMMUNITION SCANDAL

It is difficult to understand why our industries were capable of such successful production in World War II, they fell down during the Korean War. Obviously, that could not be, because when American industry gets a contract, it produces and delivers the goods. Therefore the trouble must be in the Pentagon.

Now, let us have a little look at the Pentagon history:

A small number of officers were extremely important to the successful procurement of supplies for the Army during World War II. Until about January, 1941, procurement was handled in the same general way in which it has been handled during the Korean War. Namely, through the Chiefs of Supply Arms and Services and under the general guidance, as to requirements, and with considerable interfering supervision of G-4.

About January, 1941, the supervision was taken out of the control of G-4 and an organization was set up under General Brehon Burke Somervell as the Commanding General of the Service of Supply, later termed the Army Services Forces. In this setup the Chiefs of Supply Arms and Services reported to General Somervell. Although the procurement problems were enormously difficult, they were surprisingly well met.

It is interesting in this connection to note that in previous major wars there had always been a change in the men who occupied the office of Quartermaster General. This was not done in World War II because of the successful operation of this organization by the then Quartermaster General Edmund B. Gregory. The handling of the Quartermaster responsibilities during World War II was one of the outstanding successes in our military history.

The Ordnance Department was headed in 1940 by General Charles M. Wesson. The driving force in the procurement of ammunition and of other Ordnance supplies was Lieutenant General Levin H.

Campbell, Jr., who established an outstanding reputation. In this capacity he was responsible for seeing to it that new facilities were provided for the manufacture of arms and ammunition. He had under his direction four officers, three of them regulars, Colonel Forrest C. Shaffer, Colonel John C. Razaen, and Colonel Henry B. Sheets, and one civilian, Colonel Herbert White, who was from the automotive industry.

When General Wesson's term of office expired, General Campbell became Chief of Ordnance and his usual drive and ability spread through the entire organization.

One of the other major and most difficult factors in ammunition production was the construction for the housing of manufacturing facilities. This was originally under General Edmund B. Gregory, the Quartermaster General, with General Somervell in direct charge.

In both ammunition procurement and construction every effort was made to avoid delay, and delays were avoided. The officers had a definite understanding of the needs of the troops, although they were not responsible for estimating these needs. Certainly General Campbell, General Somervell and General Leslie R. Groves, who was Deputy Chief of Construction before he went to the Manhattan Project, had a better appreciation of the need for small arms ammunition in the summer of 1941 than seemed to be existent anywhere else. They knew their business and recognized their responsibilities. They seemed to feel keenly the obligation to see that troops in action had the ammunition they needed. There were no failures.

The same kind of energy and responsibility went into the Manhattan Project, when General Leslie R. Groves managed it. The atom bomb was made and used before the war was over. When General Groves was assigned to the Manhattan Project, Secretary Stimson told him that he was to do anything that was necessary, if by so doing it he could complete the project one day sooner.

Many other names may be mentioned in connection with this great work which won a war by production and supply. Why is it that none of these men of experience is being used even in a consultative capacity? Many of them are in private industry using their vast experience, much of it gained while in the Army. Is there no way to use them for America?

I come back to the subject of our profligate use of manpower. These officers have had a wonderful training; we retire them at their peak to make room for the next generation. Nevertheless, there

Our officers held a conference and then our senior officer, a Marine major, walked down the road and up to the hill. He talked to the Chinese and came back.

"The major had made a deal with the Chinese. The deal was that our wounded would be sent back to our own lines if the rest of us surrendered. The promise was not kept.

"The Chinese marched those of us away who could walk. We spent a freezing night in some cabins not far away. There were 120 of us then. Next morning we were marched back past where the ambush had taken place. The wounded were all still there, only now they weren't wounded. They were frozen to death, about 230 bodies.

"Of the 120 of us, many were wounded. I am a needle, and I did the best I could. The Chinese took away my bandages, tweezers and scissors but I hid my last six shots of morphine in my boot and when a man's pain got so bad he couldn't take it I'd give him a shot.

"There was a Texan, I remember. He was shot to pieces. I gave him one of the six shots and he shot one night because of it. I guess it was his last night — alive. Next morning he was too weak to move, and the Chinese left him there to freeze and die.

"The march to Kungye lasted 13 days. We marched zig-zag and in every direction. I think they were trying to break us down. When a man couldn't go any farther and dropped out, he was left to die. The ones that dropped out — we never saw them again.

"I had a shrapnel wound in the chest, but it didn't bother me. On the second day, we walked through slush and that night I slept in a cow stall. The temperature dropped to about 20 below zero that night. I woke up next morning and my feet were frozen. The Chinese had us out in the road before I had a chance to get my toes unfrozen.

"On Dec. 10 the Chinese guards turned us over to Korean guards and the march went on. They have no feeling for human beings. They'd stick our men with bayonets and laugh and joke about it.

"Of the 120 who started the march, 80 got to the valley camp at Kungye where we spent the rest

COMING UP?—American Aviation Magazine recently published this picture as the "first official Air Force drawing" of the XF-88 Boeing Bomarc, said to be a pilotless "fighter plane" designed to locate, track and ram an enemy plane. Launched from the ground, it carries an explosive warhead powerful enough to demolish an invading bomber. Its speed is reported at more than 1500 mph.

are so strong that they are willing to open their trap on any and every subject — from baseball to politics — and let out their natural, normal, human ignorance.

It was there all the time, but hidden. Women don't mind showing their ignorance now because they are sure of themselves. And they get more powerful all the time.

Woman is a brimming reservoir of all kinds of powers, physical, mental, moral and legal. She can do something no biologist can make in a laboratory. She can marry a male worm, turn him into a man, and when he starts feeling like a rat, she can reduce him easily to the stature of an albino paying mouse.

Women today can make men do anything they want. And they themselves can do anything a man can, and bear children besides.

Gettin' dumber, Lady Astor. No indeed. The ignorance, disdain and ingratitude that you complain of in your sex is only the arrogance of new authority, certain of its muscle.

The only hope for the future of men is that women, drunk with power, may start to quarrel among themselves. For when kings fall out — or in this case, queens — lesser breeds may make a gamble for the thrones.

And if women start belting each other around, man may band together and regain their lost "boyhood," hit 'em lady.

AEC Hints at Success in H-Devices

By FRANK CAREY

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission implied today — for the first time — that it has actual "devices" in the hydrogen bomb line presumably crude models, and that they release atomic energy on a "large scale basis now, the commission has couched its references to development in hydrogen bomb research in scientific double-talk, saying only that certain atomic tests at Eniwetok have "contributed to thermonuclear research."

The word almost never was used; weapons tested are "devices." Up to now the commission has referred only to "nuclear devices" which would refer to H-bombs.

When, in old motion pictures, the spokes of a wheel on a moving vehicle seemed to be standing still or revolving backward, it was the result of coordination of the motion of the spokes with the 24-frames a second speed of the film.

"When a man died, the Koreans would tumble his body out of the room, and take it up the hill to the grave. Once, the men among us who could walk were allowed to fix a cross and stagger up the hill to the grave and plant the cross there.

"I was unconscious for three days after we got to Kungye. All the meat came off the bottom of my feet and all the meat came sticking out.

The two major forces in the Korean War left what little fighting was in Republic of Korea and North Korean soldiers. There were only light patrol actions involving squads and platoons. The South Korean troops were checked into North Korean troops in darkness. The UN estimated 22 Reds killed in the fight and 10 in another. The Eighth Army reported only one contact between American and Chinese divisions on the Central and Western Front. The air, heavy clouds and rain grounded almost all Allied aircraft. During the night four light bombers blasted artillery and shooting at Navy ships. The Navy shot down one. Asked if there is any significance in the current lull, an Allied official recalled previous lulls in 1952 and 1951, but he also conceded the current lull could be tied to the truce talks in Panmunjom. However, both Lt. Gen. Maxwell Taylor, Eighth Army commander, and Gen. Mark Clark, U. N. Far East chief, have denied officially that there is a holddown on aggressive operations while the truce talks are in progress.

Survivors Tell of Red Slaughter

TOKYO (AP) — Half-conscious American Marines huddled in a cave during the battle for Hanoi. The month was slaughtered by Chinese soldiers who hurled grenades and sprayed the cave with machine gun fire, a marine survivor told today. The Pfc. George F. Hart, of the 1st Marine Division, lived through the front battle March 20 but was wounded and captured by the Chinese. He was exchanged at Panmunjom last week. "I saw 40 other lanterns in the cave," he said. "The Chinese struck the cave at 4 in the cave," he said. "I saw five bodies and who knew how many more. There may have been a U shaped cave, with a four foot high. The Chinese started a terrific and mortar barrage about 10 in the afternoon and they let up," Hart said. "I went back in the cave about 10 in the morning, when one of the men ran in, all excited, and the Chinese had overrun our position. The Chinese attacked their cave after a bitter fight, they used heavy submachine guns to get into the cave. I saw a few minutes," he said. "The man began to pass out. I was out for a little while. I came to and began trying to get some of the others up. I couldn't get them awake. I saw some of the men died from exhaustion."

Governors to Confer With Ike

WASHINGTON (UP) — Governors of 46 states and four territories have accepted President Eisenhower's invitation to attend a top level secret briefing on world problems here next Monday and Tuesday, the White House said today. Gov. Dan McCarty of Florida and Gov. William B. Inland of North Carolina could not attend. The invitations were extended to the governors personally and included their sending representatives in their place. A White House spokesman said an agenda has not been completed for the conference which will give the governors a complete picture on such national and world matters as the administration's "peace offensive," the Korean war, European defenses, the U.S. defense effort and their relation to the budget and taxes.

Security Risk Cabe Hits everything

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — How can a woman working in the Children's Bureau be a security risk? Or a man in the Fish and Wildlife Service? Both seem pretty far removed from anything that could threaten national security.

President Eisenhower's new security program covers every government worker in every agency. It is for a complete blue print for the future, for a time, but government employees who are considered security risks.

Details will have to be worked out. Some flaws may show up as the program goes along, because Eisenhower did not lay down the same rigid rules for all agencies. He left much of the rulemaking up to them.

So the test of what is a security risk in the Children's Bureau may not be the same as a test in an agency like the State or Defense Department, where a man who talked or drank too much might do national damage.

Yet, Eisenhower said he wants uniformity in this program in order to treat all employees fairly and equally.

He has ordered the Civil Service Commission to oversee the program in order to get uniformity. But because of the varied nature of the agencies and their work, uniformity will hardly be achieved overnight.

At the very beginning of his new order, Eisenhower said, "Whereas the interests of the national security require that all persons privileged to be employed in the departments and agencies of the Government shall be reliable, trustworthy, of good conduct and character, and of complete loyalty to the United States."

A man might be completely loyal but he might not be considered "reliable" from the standpoint of national security. It will be the job of agency heads to establish rules by which a man can be judged "reliable." That is a word which may need some precise definition.

Eisenhower must stand ultimate responsibility for the success or failure of this program although it was prepared in the Justice Department.

This is usual practice for any president since, with all his problems, he can't possibly be expected to handle every one of them but must rely on subordinates.

One thing seems clear: that a number of government employees who could not be proved disloyal can, under the wide scope of this order, be fired as security risks.

It is assumed that all those now in sensitive jobs have been fully investigated. The files of everyone of them now will be examined again to see whether or not their loyalty may be questioned.

Under this order a permanent employee who holds his job through competitive civil service examination must be given a hearing by a board created in his own agency if he is challenged as a security risk and if he has been in the government more than a year.

If he got his job through competitive examination but had been with the government less than a year, he can be fired on security grounds without a hearing.

What about a man who got his job through appointment? If he has had it less than a year he can be sacked as a security risk without a hearing. That is, if he is not a veteran. If he is a veteran it's not clear at this time whether or not he will get a hearing.

If he is an appointed man and in his job over a year, it's still an unsettled question whether he can be fired outright as a security risk without a hearing.

Torture Tales Told by U. S. Prisoners

TOKYO (AP) — An American soldier freed last week by the Communists said Wednesday the Reds forced him to stare wide-eyed at the sun for two hours as punishment for being careless during questioning.

"I couldn't see for three days," Cpl. Pedro A. Herrera of La Materna, N. M., said.

Herrera said a Chinese guard hit him in the forehead with a bayonet for talking back when the guard cussed him.

The New Mexico Infantryman

BREEZY BIKE—When Josef Redenbeck blows in from Munich, Germany, he does it in a big way. The enterprising mechanic motorized himself instead of the bike by strapping an engine and propeller to his back. The prop creates enough wind to push Joe and his bike along at a nice clip.

said he knew of one American forced to stand on ice until both his feet froze.

Herrera was one of three captured prisoners who told news men of life in North Korean Prison Camp No. 3 at Pyongyang. The others are Cpl. Yllesco K. Abraham of Sisseton, S. D., and Pfc. George W. Gray of Ogden, Utah.

Herrera was captured Nov. 5, 1950, and said 600 of 3,000 U. S. prisoners died in the first months he was in the camp.

Gray told of a bitter week-long forced march in weather 20 to 30 below zero, during December, 1950. Four or five thousand Americans were on that march northward to Pyongyang, he said, and about 300 died en route. "They were abandoned along the road when they couldn't go any further," he said. "We never saw them again."

Men who lagged, he added, were clubbed with rifle butts. Abraham told how 50 Americans ran into a Red command post during the great Chinese offensive of May, 1951, on the central front.

"Many of us were shot and some were killed," he said. "They captured the living. They started marching us north immediately."

$6 Billion in Foreign Aid Is Decided

By JOHN SCALI

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower and his top advisers have tentatively agreed on a foreign aid budget which is slightly more than the billion dollars for the coming fiscal year.

Responsible officials who reported the budget to the National Security Council last week in preparation of that body's White House meeting yesterday.

The final figure to be agreed from Congress by the year ending July 1 has not been finally determined. A possible estimate between $6,100,000,000 to now, in prospect, said those officials, and not to be named.

The White House is drafting a special report to be sent to Congress within a week. The final figure will be presented within the next few days after final conference among top defense, State Department and military aid chiefs.

Without reference to these specific figures, Sen. Arthur W. ALDRICH said today foreign aid spending must be a "proportionate" share in budget cuts. He indicated that figure might be from 2 1/2 billion dollars under the $7,000,000,000 which former President Truman said in his farewell budget was the maximum amount Congress should appropriate to guarantee Western security against communism.

Even a foreign aid program of $6,100,000,000 — 1 1/2 billions under that — would represent considerably more than top Republican planners thought was needed a week ago. Key officials then said they believed the sum could be held to about $5,600,000. The amount voted for the present year was about six billions.

Iron Curtain Group Getting Set for War

VIENNA (AP) — Any "peace offensive" now underway in East Europe is being accompanied by a more rapid pace than ever before. In each satellite land, workers are being urged to greater production for the "defense of the homeland."

Large sums of national budgets, diplomats believe, are being channeled from non-essential expenditures to the development of war industries.

The armament and training of "security forces" which supplement by millions the 1,125,000 men in the satellite armed forces—is uninterrupted.

A week ago Czech Finance Minister Jaroslav Kubek presented a 1953 budget doubling last year's expenditures for defense and internal security.

Defense for Jenkins Prepared

HOT SPRINGS (AP) — Bill Jenkins' defense will attempt to prove today that the 41-year-old farmer was rendered temporarily insane by a narcotic administered by a young girl he is accused of killing.

State testimony in the trial of Jenkins on a charge of first degree murder ended yesterday after a prosecution witness testified that Cloy Jones poured a narcotic into Jenkins' coffee shortly before the shooting in which she was killed occurred.

The witness was Mrs. Marie Pitts, who was wounded in the shooting along with Mrs. Ruth Cox.

Defense Attorney Creekmore Wallace, whose motion for a directed verdict of acquittal was denied, has said he would prove Jenkins was temporarily insane because of the narcotic.

Miss Jones and Mrs. Pitts lived at the Jenkins' home here until the day of the shooting, which occurred at the Cox home.

troops soon.

An estimated 14 million of East Europe's 80 million men, women and children are either under arms or receiving semi-military training in schools and factories, since April 1, training programs have been going ahead at a more rapid pace than ever before.

In each satellite land, workers are being urged to greater production for the "defense of the homeland."
